

$11 million offered for Proof of the Origin of Life!

The Origin-of-Life Foundation, Inc. currently offers a $1 million prize to anyone providing a chemically plausible "naturalistic" solution for the genetic code and origin of life. The website states: "The Origin-of-Life Prize"® (hereafter called "the Prize") will be awarded for proposing a highly plausible mechanism for the spontaneous rise of genetic instructions in nature sufficient to give rise to life. To win, the explanation must be consistent with empirical biochemical, kinetic, and thermodynamic concepts as further delineated herein, and be published in a well-respected, peer-reviewed science journal(s).

This has been a genuine effort by evolutionists since 1997 to find a reasonable, purely naturalistic story about the origin of life. In May 2019 The Royal Society in Great Britain hosted by Oxford Professor Denis Noble FRS CBE, made a new announcement:

Now there is a $10 million USD Prize for Life's Origin!

The Evolution 2.0 Prize "incentivizes the first person who can discover how code can emerge from chemistry."

Thus far, there have been no awards.

"One must conclude that, contrary to the established and current wisdom

a scenario describing the genesis of life on earth by chance and natural causes which can be accepted on the basis of fact and not faith has not yet been written." Dr. Yockey

Even if a living cell could be made in the laboratory from simpler chemicals, it would not prove that nature followed the same pathway billions of years ago on the early Earth.

So, if you still believe in "Goo to you - via the zoo evolution" please claim the prize, then shout me to lunch and tell me all about it!

Now for the BIG question: Are you a good person?

Yes  or No

Have you kept the 10 Commandments - God's top 10 list of loving others & Him?

- (1) Have you ever told a lie? Revelation 21:8 says, "All liars will have their part in the lake of fire (hell)."
- (2) Have you ever stolen anything? (the value is irrelevant) 1 Corinthians 6:9-10 says, "No thief will enter heaven."
- (3) Have you ever looked with lust? Jesus said in Matthew 5:28 that lust is adultery of the heart.

God sees you as a lying, thieving, adulterer at heart and we've only looked at 3 of the 10 Commandments!

(See the full list: Exodus 20 &/or Deuteronomy 5, Matthew 5:21-28 & Mark 12:30)

If you are honest, you know you will be guilty on the Day of Judgment. You don't have a snowflakes chance in hell - of deserving heaven.

The Bible warns that the punishment is death and eternal separation in hell from God and all that is good. That's not God's desire for you.

So, how can you escape God's righteous judgement?

God provided a way for you to be forgiven and your punishment paid. Our Creator God in His great mercy came down, took on flesh as Jesus, who lived a 100% pure sinless life, then gave Himself as a payment for your sin when He "laid down His life" and died on the Cross.

He went to hell in your place, so you could go free!

Then He rose from the grave and defeated death, so you can have a relationship with Him now and eternally.

That's how much God loves you.

You broke God's Law and Jesus paid your fine. It was a legal transaction. This means that, God can legally dismiss your case. You can leave the courtroom on the day of judgement because Jesus paid your fine.

So, "What should we do?" (Acts 2:37)

The Right Response Required:

Repent - turn right back round 180 degrees (↵) from your sinful, selfish way to God's way - know and do His will.

Believe - trust that Jesus has paid for & can forgive your sin by taking your death penalty on the cross.

Be Baptized - this sacred dipping is your bath (2 clean you up Acts 22:16), burial (2 lay 2 rest your mess Rom. 6:4) & a re-clothing (dressing you in your new "adult faith wardrobe" Gal.3:27)

Receive the Holy Spirit - He empowers and leads you into actually living this new abundant life of deep peace, joy & freedom that you could never do in your own strength! (see Acts 2:37-38)

Date I made peace with my Creator & did the right response required:

Find a Bible believing, Jesus following, disciple-maker to help you grow. (see Matt.28:18-20)

THE BEAUTIFUL DESIGN OF SNOW FLAKES

Quiz Questions:

- (1) Is every snowflake unique?
- (2) What % of the Earth is covered in snow? approx. options: 3%, 13%, 23% or 33%?
- (3) What is the lowest air temperature ever recorded?
- (4) What 2 factors influence snow crystal formation & shape?
- (5) Are snowflakes evidence for evolution?

Quiz Question Answers:

(1) Short answer—Depends! Naturally, smaller snowflakes that take the shape of hexagonal prisms look pretty much the same: On the other hand, larger, star-shaped crystals are all different. Crystals can easily have 100 or more features that can be recombined in different ways—leading to at least a staggering  $10^{158}$  different possibilities.

This is  $10^{70}$  times the number of estimated atoms in the entire universe!

Artificially: Controlling the micro-environment enables “identical twin” snowflakes to be made in a laboratory.

(2) Snow covers about 23% of the Earth's surface.

(3) The lowest natural air temperature ever directly recorded at ground level on Earth was at Vostok II in Antarctica, 3,420 metres (11,218 feet) above sea level. The temperature dropped to -89.2 degrees Celsius (-128.6 ° degrees Fahrenheit)! July 21, 1983.

On August 10, 2010, satellite observations measured a surface temperature of -93.2 °C (-135.8 °F) at 81.8°S 59.3°E, along a ridge between Dome Argus and Dome Fuji, at 3,900m elevation.

(4) Temperature & Humidity influence crystal formation and shape. The size and shape of snow crystals depend mainly on the temperature of their formation and the amount of water vapour available at deposition.

✦ The beautiful six-legged star-like crystals grow in air warmer than -3°C.

✦ Between -3°C & -10°C, snow falls as little needle prisms.

✦ Between -10°C & -22°C, it is little stars again,

✦ and below that, hollow prisms once more.

Nevertheless, scientists still cannot tell exactly why snow crystal shapes change so much with temperature. These shapes depend on how water vapor molecules are incorporated in to the growing ice crystal & the physical processes governing crystal growth are complex & not well understood yet. The largest snow crystal ever photographed.

(5) Are snowflakes evidence for evolution?:

Many evolutionists have tried to claim the order of a crystal forming due to atomic structures as proof for “something coming out of nothing”, due simply to natural laws. That snowflakes show that order can arise from disorder, and more complex structures from simple ones, based purely on the inherent physical properties of matter. Therefore, the reasoning goes, life could have arisen from simple molecules that organize themselves in a way that ultimately leads to more complex structures, and eventually the first living cell.

Eg. This position is stated by Professor Lawrence Krauss 13min. into “The Atheist Delusion” movie:

But closer examination of this “popular” theory shows it does not hold up to scientific scrutiny. FREE on YouTube TheistMovie.com

So why do snow crystals form this shape?

Ice crystals form as water vapor freezes on a bit of microscopic dust. The dust particles can come from many different places, including flower pollen, volcanic ash, and even celestial bodies such as meteors. A snow crystal's shape is due mainly to the properties of their building blocks, the water molecules (H<sub>2</sub>O). These are bent and polar (i.e.: with positively & negatively charged ends). When they come together in solid form, they tend to form the lowest-energy structure they can which is crystals with hexagonal (6-fold) symmetry. By contrast, carbon dioxide (CO<sub>2</sub>) a linear and more symmetrical molecule, forms cubic crystals in its solid form (“dry ice”).

It is important to note that crystals are nothing like a living cell.

Snow crystals are formed by the withdrawal of heat from water, they are dead structures that contain no more information than is in their component parts, the water molecules. Life forms, on the other hand, came into existence, evolutionists believe, through the addition of heat energy to some postulated primordial soup. Not only are these processes very different, but life requires the emergence of new information (a code) in order to take over the functions of organization and reproduction of a cell.

There is therefore no analogy between snow crystals and the far greater complexity of living organisms.

Most importantly, the organization in proteins and DNA is not caused by the properties of the constituent amino acids and nucleotides themselves, any more than forces between ink molecules make them join up into letters and words.

In order to live, a cell must at least have parts that will let it:

- Separate itself from the water around it
- Take in food & expel wastes
- Use food to make the energy the cell needs to do its work
- Reproduce
- Contain the information that directs all this.

Each of our cells contain over 3 gigabytes of information in  $\approx$  3.2 billion base pairs. There are about 100 trillion cells in the human body.

One gram of DNA can store 700 terabytes of data. That's 14,000 x 50-gigabyte Blu-ray discs! 1

Cells can't live without lipids, proteins, RNA or DNA & these are only produced by living cells.

DNA: The Recipe Book of Life!

The information contained in the code of the DNA, as well as a de-coding system and the correct machinery to implement that code does not form because of any known natural laws.

Michael Polanyi, a former chairman of physical chemistry at the University Of Manchester (UK), confirmed this:

“As the arrangement of a printed page is extraneous to the chemistry of the printed page, so is the base sequence in a DNA molecule extraneous to the chemical forces at work in the DNA molecule.”

Also, as Professor & Director at the German Federal Institute of Physics & Technology Dr. Werner Gitt has clearly & precisely published:

“Theorem 28:

There is no known law of nature, no known process, and no known sequence of events which can cause information to originate by itself in matter.”<sup>2</sup>

“All known languages, alphabets and codes, as well as the information spoken or written in them, originated in minds. The faith of the atheist that the first life was an exception is contrary to all known evidence.

Information never develops apart from intelligence, yet cells contain huge amounts of information.

I believe this is the most important single evidence that life came from the mind of an intelligent Creator.”

Thomas F. Heinze

In the beginning... soup? Pg. 12

Of course, the physical properties of water are known to be necessary preconditions for life to exist on Earth, which also testifies to a Creator, who conceived the universe and its physical laws as conducive to life. For example, snow forms an insulating layer on the ground that protects plants and animals below it from the much harsher temperatures above. But whereas this could have been achieved with very simple shapes such as round or square disks, the lavish beauty and variety in snow crystals, shows Gods loving creativity in making snow not only very useful, but also wonderful to look at! As even evolutionists admit,:

“One could almost convince oneself that snowflakes constitute a demonstration of supernatural power”.

Bailey, D., Evolution and Probability, Report of National Center for Science Education 20(4), 2001.

“How full of the creative genius is the air in which these are generated! I should hardly admire more if real stars fell and lodged on my coat.” - Henry David Thoreau, 1856

Conclusion

To compare snowflake formation to any assumed evolutionary growth in complexity is like comparing chalk with cheese. Examining the two, simply highlights the need for external information before biological order will arise - which is a strong argument for the intelligent design of a Creator.

Information + Complex Design always = Intelligent Designer
Just as a Building is 100% scientific proof of a Builder,
Painting = Painter,
Creation = Creator!
